Russia Could Halt Probe of Spain by Using Veto Power

Gromyko's Stand Is That No Probe Is Needed, if Evidence Is Enough to Show Franco Regime Menaces Peace; Silent on Plans

New York, April 29 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council is expected to order an investigation of Franco Spain today unless Soviet Russia, only opponent of the move, delays action by attempting to invoke the veto.

As the delegates prepared to meet at 3 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time, they were lined up 10 to 1 in favor of Australia's latest proposal to set up a five-man subcommittee to determine whether the Franco regime is threatening the world peace.

The Council, with this same lineup, had been prepared to vote for the investigation Friday, but, in the hope that Russia might reverse her position and make the vote unanimous, it agreed to defer action until this afternoon.

Price Panel Says Consumers Receive $436.20 in Refunds

Largest Amount Is $133 on Used Car, Mullen Reports; Meeting Is Scheduled

Refunds from sellers to consumers on overcharges in used car transactions in Kingston since January 1, have totalled $436.20, Chief Clerk Charles E. Mullen, of the Price Control Panel, said Saturday.

Violation of O.P.A. price ceiling in the sale of washing machines resulted in a refund of $72.50, while minor violations in apparel consumers durables accounted for refunds of $20.19.

Virtually all of the refunds were the result of settlements effected by the local Price Control Panel after local hearings.

The largest refund involved an overcharge of $133 on a used car. Another similar violation resulted in a $115 settlement, while other overcharges in used car sales and servicing amounted to items like $214, $50.16, $42.50. Minor service adjustments reported were $3.35 and $3.05.

Some Paid Without Hearings

Settlements in several other overcharges were effected without public hearings.

The cash refunds were effected, Mr. Mullen said, after extensive hearings conducted by the Price Control Panel. The local policy is to issue warnings to all sellers found violating O.P.A. ceilings, if the violator has one or several items in stock tagged above existing O.P.A. levels. It is not until the seller has violated preliminary warnings that legal action is taken against him, Mr. Mullen said.

The local Price Control Panel is scheduled to hold an important meeting tomorrow to consider changes in the policy of disseminating information on O.P.A. violations. Specifically, the panel will discuss the admission of the press to all local hearings.

Big Four Survey Italian Situation

Colonial Possessions, Isles Are on Paris Agenda; Clash Foreseen

Paris, April 29 (AP)—The four-power foreign ministers' conference ran into its most crucial session today, with the future of Italy's colonial possessions in North Africa and the Dodecanese islands, and the Mediterranean on the agenda.

It was on these questions that Russian Mediterranean interests and Britain's empire communications were expected to clash directly. There were indications that the disposition of Tripolitania, would take up most of the session.

The Russians have asked for a trusteeship over Tripolitania, but British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin has declared such a grant would cut directly across Britain's Mediterranean communications to the Middle East and India. The United Nations trusteeship for Libya, which includes Tripolitania, as well as for Eritrea on East Africa.

Bevin's discussion with empire leaders in London over the week-end was believed to have been concerned primarily with this problem.

Time Is Short

Although the foreign ministers agreed to all phases of the day's agenda, American sources said it was doubtful if there would be time to discuss the disputed Greek frontier and Trieste island.

Manchuria Rift Is Not Resolved

Kai-Shek, Marshall and Chou Fail in Efforts to Agree on Area

Talks to Resume Sessions Will Begin Again at Nanking, Is Report

Chungking, April 29 (AP)—Informed Chinese sources said tonight that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, Communist General Chou En-Lai and U. S. General George Marshall had failed to reach an agreement that would halt fighting in Manchuria. They have been conferring constantly.

Negotiations will be transferred to Nanking, where the capital is transferring this week, these sources declared.

Marshall was expected to fly to Nanking tomorrow, with Chou and Chiang following later in the week. Earlier Marshall's headquarters indicated that he might not leave for Nanking until later, and this was taken as a hint that negotiations were marking progress.

Republicans Plan Fight Under Taft On O.P.A. Program

Kilday Says There Is No Democratic Plan, Criticizes Secretary Wallace

Washington, April 29 (AP)—A Republican effort to grab the Price Control Bill in the Senate and run it through badly disorganized Democratic lines prompted mixed predictions today of success and failure.

Three Troy Youths Arrested Saturday As Auto Thieves

Police Charge Them With Stealing Local Car; Say They Admit Taking 3 Others

Three boys from Troy in their early teens were arrested here Saturday afternoon by Patrolmen George P. Bowers and Henry Ronnenberg, who charged them with the theft of a local automobile, and while questioning them learned that they had stolen three other cars.

The radio car patrolmen, suspicious of the youthfulness of the trio, ranging in age from 13 to 14 years, stopped them on Albany avenue for a check-up on licenses. During the investigation it was learned by the police that the boys had stolen the sedan in which they were riding from in front of the Colonial City Chevrolet, Inc., showroom on Broadway and Maiden Lane.

Truman Studies Coal Problem; Stone Successor to Be Named

Washington, April 29 (AP)—President Truman, his mind made up on the Supreme Court, turned today to a search for means of settling the nationwide soft coal strike before industrial paralysis sets in.

The President's choice of a new chief justice to replace the late Harlan F. Stone and of a new member of the court to succeed the president's son are expected to be announced early this week—possibly tomorrow.

That much was known definitely, but White House candidates for the most part declined to verify this report. (1) That either Robert H. Jackson or William O. Douglas will be moved up to head the court and (2) that Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, a Republican, will be added to its membership.

Jackson, a close friend of Mr. Truman, is serving as chief U. S. prosecutor at the Nazi war crimes trials in Nuremberg and probably would not return to the bench before the June adjournment even if he gets the nod. The new court term opens in October.

Some Capitol Hill friends of the President said they think that if Patterson is moved into the tribunal, W. Stuart Symington, assistant secretary of war for air, might be considered for the cabinet post.

Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan, who also is Democratic national chairman, conferred with Mr. Truman for several hours yesterday aboard the presidential yacht Williamsburg, which brought the Chief Executive back to the capital from a week-long vacation.

Navy Flier Is Killed In Red Hook Crackup

New York, April 29 (AP)—The Navy Public Relations Office said an investigation was under way today into a plane crash near Poughkeepsie, N. Y., yesterday in which Ensign Attilio Gerard di Cavanio was killed.

Di Cavanio, whose home is at Staten Island, N. Y., was the lone occupant of the Navy Hellcat plane when it nose-dived into a wooded area at Red Hook, Dutchess county and burst into flames.

The flier was on a training flight from Floyd Bennett Field. The body was found by Trooper Darby Thomas said eyewitnesses told him that just before the crash the plane was flying upside down at a low altitude.

Ellenville Will Get $90,000 Airport; Project Approved

Two Runways Planned; Project Is Endorsed by State; $1,800 for Plans

Construction of an airport for the Ellenville section of Ulster county is called for in a project approved by the New York State Postwar Public Works Planning Commission at its April meeting, John E. Burton, commission chairman, announced today.

Estimated cost of the airport is $90,000. In voting approval, the commission allocated $1,800 from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's postwar reconstruction fund to pay half the cost of preparing plans.

It is proposed to provide two runways, each 300 feet wide, with one 2,700 feet long and the other 2,300 feet.

The project is endorsed by the State Department of Commerce which informed the Planning Commission that Ellenville is on the current edition of the National Airport Plans submitted to Congress by the C.A.A. and "therefore will be eligible to participate in any federal airport-aid program which develops."

The United States then got in on the French situation by making available ships in which to carry the Russian grain to France. Officials have made no secret of their desire to publicize that fact in order to try to keep American influence in France in balance with that of Russia.

Albany, N. Y., April 29 (AP)—A new state law, requiring registration of all automobile dealers, will mean there will be fewer traffic accidents, State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Clifford J. Fletcher feels. The law, effective July 1, will check dealers who sell unsafe automobiles, the commissioner observed.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 29 (AP)—Eugene Fearon, 40, of New York city, a merchant marine fireman, was killed today when, Deputy Sheriff Hugh Brennan said, he jumped through the window of the men's room of a moving New York Central railroad train near here.

State Department Would Be More Drastic in Action Than Secretary of Agriculture Gives His Views

Anderson Says U. S. Has No Idea of Seizing Supplies

Washington, April 29 (AP)—With food becoming a powerful weapon in world politics, clashing State and Agriculture Department views over American famine relief methods appear certain today to reach President Truman for decision.

The State Department under Acting Secretary Dean Acheson is demanding much more drastic measures—such as seizure of some wheat reserves in the hands of millers—than the Agriculture Department under Secretary Clinton P. Anderson has been willing so far to order into effect.

Anderson is responsible for obtaining food supplies in this country for shipment abroad. Acheson is mainly responsible for where these supplies go and what is done with them. Acheson's responsibility is shared, however, with Secretary of War Robert Patterson, under whose direction are American occupation forces in Germany and Japan.

Russia Could Halt Probe of Spain by Using Veto Power

Gromyko's Stand Is That No Probe Is Needed, if Evidence Is Enough to Show Franco Regime Menaces Peace; Silent on Plans

New York, April 29 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council is expected to order an investigation of Franco Spain today unless Soviet Russia, only opponent of the move, delays action by attempting to invoke the veto.

As the delegates prepared to meet at 3 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time, they were lined up 10 to 1 in favor of Australia's latest proposal to set up a five-man subcommittee to determine whether the Franco regime is threatening the world peace.

The Council, with this same lineup, had been prepared to vote for the investigation Friday, but, in the hope that Russia might reverse her position and make the vote unanimous, it agreed to defer action until this afternoon.

At least one delegate—Rafael De La Colina of Mexico—attempted to win Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko over to the side of the majority in the interest of unanimity, but there was no evidence that he was successful.

At the time De La Colina talked with Gromyko he was understood to have held firm to his position that sufficient facts already are available to prove that the Franco regime is a menace to peace and that no further investigation is necessary.

Whether the Soviet delegate planned to try to block the Australian resolution by invoking the veto was a subject of wide speculation over the week-end, but Gromyko remained silent on his position.

By attempting to invoke the veto, it was pointed out, Gromyko had little to gain beyond getting the Council involved in a lengthy discussion of the controversial veto question and delaying a final vote.

"Procedure" Is Angle Viewed

Most of the delegates were understood to feel that the Spanish question, in its present stage, is one of procedure, rather than of substance, and is therefore subject to veto.

The sudden withdrawal of Australian Delegate W. R. Hodgson, sponsor of the inquiry resolution, from the Council Saturday, left a new Australian representative, Paul Hasluck, to take the leadership in pushing the measure through.

Hodgson, who is Australian ambassador to Paris, announced he was leaving the Council because of his wife's ill health and because he already had been away from Paris longer than he had expected when he agreed to serve on the Council.

Hasluck, who had been serving as counselor on Australia's permanent mission at United Nations headquarters, was expected to follow the same policies which guided Hodgson.

Iran Comes Again May 6

The re-opening of the Iranian case is expected to confront the delegates with a difficult situation, regardless of whether Russia gets all her troops out of Iran by May 6, as promised.

Gromyko already has informed the Council he would not participate in any further discussions of the Iranian question and there also was a possibility that the Russian government might refuse to report to the Council even if all Soviet troops were out of Iran by May 6.

The Council would face an even more serious problem if Iran reported Soviet troops still were on Iranian soil after the deadline. The delegates then would have the problem of deciding what action to take.

Dispatches from Tehran have indicated that the evacuation was far from completed and an Iranian general staff expressed doubts a week ago that the Russians would get all their troops out by May 6.

Selectees Will Leave City on Daylight Time

Buses to transport selectees to the Albany induction center, Thursday morning, will leave on daylight saving time, it was announced at the Kingston Selective Service Board office today.

When notices were sent out, there was no specification of daylight saving time in the instructions on reporting at the office, so today's announcement was made to clarify matters for men leaving Thursday.

One group has been notified to report at the office in the post office at 9:15 a. m. and the other at 9:30 o'clock. The buses will leave for Albany at 10 o'clock, Daylight Saving Time.

Manchuria Rift Is Not Resolved

Kai-Shek, Marshall and Chou Fail in Efforts to Agree on Area

Talks to Resume Sessions Will Begin Again at Nanking, Is Report

Chungking, April 29 (AP)—Informed Chinese sources said tonight that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, Communist General Chou En-Lai and U. S. General George Marshall had failed to reach an agreement that would halt fighting in Manchuria. They have been conferring constantly.

Negotiations will be transferred to Nanking, where the capital is transferring this week, these sources declared.

Marshall was expected to fly to Nanking tomorrow, with Chou and Chiang following later in the week. Earlier Marshall's headquarters indicated that he might not leave for Nanking until later, and this was taken as a hint that negotiations were marking progress.

Marshall's headquarters still was silent regarding progress of the negotiations but Chinese sources said the Generalissimo had rejected a Democratic League formula for truce in Manchuria, leaving the Communists in control of Harbin and Chungking, the capital.

These sources said Chiang is depending upon his armies to reconquer Chungking before agreeing on a truce.

Marshall met with Chou this morning and Chiang later. A possibility that negotiators may reach an acceptable plan before leaving Chungking still existed, however, since Marshall is spending every available minute in conferences with the leaders.

Chinese sources, who asked to remain anonymous, reported earlier that General Marshall had approved a Communist truce proposal, but this was denied by a group of minority parties.

The sudden withdrawal of Australian Delegate W. R. Hodgson, sponsor of the inquiry resolution, from the Council Saturday, left a new Australian representative, Paul Hasluck, to take the leadership in pushing the measure through.

Hodgson, who is Australian ambassador to Paris, announced he was leaving the Council because of his wife's ill health and because he already had been away from Paris longer than he had expected when he agreed to serve on the Council.

Republicans Plan Fight Under Taft On O.P.A. Program

Kilday Says There Is No Democratic Plan, Criticizes Secretary Wallace

Washington, April 29 (AP)—A Republican effort to grab the Price Control Bill in the Senate and run it through badly disorganized Democratic lines prompted mixed predictions today of success and failure.

Shucking off the legislation wraps they have worn most of the time since 1933, the Republicans apparently are committing themselves to an open fight under the direction of Senator Taft of Ohio to force through a program of their own.

It is the first move of this nature since the G.O.P. legislators adopted a general statement of policy last December, and it came at a time when dissatisfaction in Democratic ranks was demonstrated by a plea from Rep. Kilday (D-Texas) for his congressional colleagues to meet and adopt a program of their own.

Asserting that there now is no Democratic program except that sponsored by "certain individuals," Kilday criticized Secretary of Commerce Wallace in a statement for advocating that party members be punished for not supporting administration proposals.

Taft's move to put the minority steering committee and G.O.P. members of the Banking Committee on the line for a specific set of O.P.A. proposals was looked upon generally as serving notice that the Republicans think the time has come for an open challenge to administration control of the Senate.

That control has been tenuous at best recently. And because the Democrats are so widely divided in their own views on O.P.A., one administration lieutenant who didn't want to be quoted by name said ruefully the G.O.P. bloc might put over some of its amendments.

Others said that if the move becomes clearly partisan, enough of the Senate's 56 Democrats are almost certain to stick together to knock the scheme down.

Taft has talked of a "moderate" program under which O.P.A. would be continued beyond June 30 with some curtailment in its authority but not put in a straight-jacket administration leaders have said the house fashioned for it.

That sort of a program would be likely to attract support from some farm state Democrats who won't go along with the administration on present controls but may not want to see O.P.A. wiped out, as some of their more outspoken colleagues have demanded.

Navy Flier Is Killed In Red Hook Crackup

New York, April 29 (AP)—The Navy Public Relations Office said an investigation was under way today into a plane crash near Poughkeepsie, N. Y., yesterday in which Ensign Attilio Gerard di Cavanio was killed.

Di Cavanio, whose home is at Staten Island, N. Y., was the lone occupant of the Navy Hellcat plane when it nose-dived into a wooded area at Red Hook, Dutchess county and burst into flames.

The flier was on a training flight from Floyd Bennett Field.

At Poughkeepsie State Trooper Darby Thomas said eyewitnesses told him that just before the crash the plane was flying upside down at a low altitude.

The Navy said di Cavanio had third degree burns all over his body. The body was at Stewart Field near West Point today pending completion of funeral arrangements.

Ellenville Will Get $90,000 Airport; Project Approved

Two Runways Planned; Project Is Endorsed by State; $1,800 for Plans

Construction of an airport for the Ellenville section of Ulster county is called for in a project approved by the New York State Postwar Public Works Planning Commission at its April meeting. John E. Burton, commission chairman, announced today.

Estimated cost of the airport is $90,000. In voting approval, the commission allocated $1,800 from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's postwar reconstruction fund to pay half the cost of preparing plans.

It is proposed to provide two runways, each 300 feet wide, with one 2,700 feet long and the other 2,300 feet.

The project is endorsed by the State Department of Commerce which informed the Planning Commission that Ellenville is on the current edition of the National Airport Plans submitted to Congress by the C.A.A. and "therefore will be eligible to participate in any federal airport-aid program which develops."

State Department Would Be More Drastic in Action Than Secretary of Agriculture Gives His Views

Anderson Says U. S. Has No Idea of Seizing Supplies

Washington, April 29 (AP)—With food becoming a powerful weapon in world politics, clashing State and Agriculture Department views over American famine relief methods appear certain today to reach President Truman for decision.

The State Department under Acting Secretary Dean Acheson is demanding much more drastic measures—such as seizure of some wheat reserves in the hands of millers—than the Agriculture Department under Secretary Clinton F. Anderson has been willing so far to order into effect.

Anderson is responsible for obtaining food supplies in this country for shipment abroad. Acheson is mainly responsible for where these supplies go and what is done with them. Acheson's responsibility is shared, however, with Secretary of War Robert Patterson, under whose direction are American occupation forces in Germany and Japan.

The sharp difference between Anderson and Acheson was brought to light finally Saturday. The Agriculture Secretary, returning from a midwest tour, predicted swelling supplies of grain once spring planting is done and called for greater cooperation to meet deficits in grain exports.

Twenty-four hours earlier Acheson had indicated at a news conference his belief that cooperative measures were needed to get the grain abroad. He added that the solution could lie in seizing the wheat or flour as necessary to meet shipment schedules.

No Direct Reference

Anderson made no direct reference to the possibility that some millers' stocks of grain might be requisitioned, but he emphasized that the government has no intention of seizing supplies held by farmers.

Diplomatic authorities here said Acheson's position reflects the view of the state department's own food supply experts who expect explosive political results unless famine needs are met more speedily than the food surplus countries are meeting them now.

How the dispute might be carried to Mr. Truman's desk was not disclosed, but officials agree that it is of such importance as to warrant attention.

The use of food directly for political ends is seen by diplomats in two recent developments. One is Russia's current delivery of a half million tons of grain to France specifically at the request of the French Communist party leader. The action was taken after Russia had ignored a United States appeal to contribute to U.N.R.R.A. grain pools.

Ships Made Available

The United States then got in on the French situation by making available ships in which to carry the Russian grain to France. Officials have made no secret of their desire to publicize that fact in order to try to keep American influence in France in balance with that of Russia.

Another instance occurred in South America where the Argentine government of Juan Peron, newly elected strongman president, is said to be put to get the present pro-United States Foreign Minister of Uruguay thrown out of office. Argentina's wheat shipments to Uruguay were suspended. Two days ago it was officially announced that United States wheat would go to Uruguay in place of that from Argentina.

Generally, diplomats agree that the growth of extremist political doctrines not well-liked in the United States, Britain and other western powers may be expected throughout the European countries where hunger flourishes.

Group Is Chosen For Celebration

Committee Will Prepare Plan to Mark Ferry Service Locally

Following the plan approved by the Kingston Chamber of Commerce for a proper celebration of the reopening of ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff a committee composed of prominent citizens from both Kingston and northern Dutchess county has been named by President James L. Rowe of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Rev. F. L. Gollnick of Kingston is general chairman of the committee. Other members from Kingston are Bert Bishop, Clarence L. Dumm, William C. Kingman, Louis R. Netter, Harry Rigby, Jr., Louis B. Steketee, Edwin T. Strong, Roy M. Sutcliffe, Ira V. D. Warren, George E. Yerry, Jr. The northern Dutchess division of the committee is composed of Edward E. Tewksbury, Rhinecliff (chairman); Oakley Cookingham, Red Hook; John Creswell, Stanfordville; Michael Fichera, Rhinebeck; Benson R. Frost, Rhinebeck; Charles Gallagher, Milan; Harry Parsons, North East; William Peck, Pine Plains; Jacob H. Strong, Jr., Rhinebeck; Lester C. Trowbridge, Rhinecliff; Lewis F. Winne, Rhinebeck; Harold Wright, Clinton.

Following the naming of this general committee, a special committee from the Kingston Chamber of Commerce met with members of the New York State Bridge Authority. They were assured that the Bridge Authority would cooperate to make the plan for a celebration a success; also that sufficient notice would be given of the date on which the ferry will begin operations, so that final plans and arrangements could be made. The special committee also met with Mayor Edelmuth and were assured of his cooperation.

Price Panel Says Consumers Receive $36.20 in Refunds

Largest Amount Is $133 on Used Car, Mullen Reports; Meeting Is Scheduled

Refunds from sellers to consumers on overcharges in used car transactions in Kingston since January 1, have totalled $436.20. Chief Clerk Charles E. Mullen, of the Price Control Panel, said Saturday.

Violation of O.P.A. price ceiling in the sale of washing machines resulted in a refund of $72.50, while minor violations in apparel consumers durables accounted for refunds of $20.19.

Virtually all of the refunds were the result of settlements effected by the local Price Control Panel after local hearings.

The largest refund involved an overcharge of $133 on a used car. Another similar violation resulted in a $110 settlement, while other overcharges in used car sales and servicing amounted to items like $21.14, $50.16, $42.50. Minor service adjustments reported were $13 and $3.05.

Some Paid Without Hearings

Settlements in several other overcharges were effected without local hearings.

The cash refunds were effected, Mr. Mullen said, after extensive hearings conducted by the Price Control Panel. The local policy is to issue warnings to all violators found violating O.P.A. ceilings, if the violator has one or several items in stock tagged above existing O.P.A. levels. It is not until the seller has violated preliminary warning that legal action is taken against him, Mr. Mullen said.

The local Price Control Panel is scheduled to hold an important hearing tomorrow to consider charges in the policy of disseminating information on O.P.A. violations. Specifically, the panel will discuss the admission of the press to all local hearings.

Four Survey Italian Situation

Are on Paris Agenda; Clash Foreseen

Paris, April 29 (AP)—The four foreign ministers' conference can into its most crucial session today, with the future of Italy's colonial possessions in North Africa and the Dodecanese islands in the Mediterranean on the agenda.

It was on these questions that British and American interests and Britain's empire communications were expected to clash directly. There were indications that the disposition of Italian colonies, particularly the Dodecanese islands, would take up most of the session.

The Russians have asked for a reshaping over Tripolitania, but Britain has declared such a grant would be directly against Britain's communications to the Middle East and India. The United States has proposed a trusteeship for Tripolitania, as well as for Eritrea on East Africa.

Britain's discussion with empire interests in London over the week-end was believed to have been conducted primarily with this problem in mind.

Truman Studies Coal Problem; Stone Successor to Be Named

Washington, April 29 (AP)—President Truman, his mind made up on the Supreme Court, turned today to a search for means of settling the nationwide soft coal strike before industrial paralysis sets in.

The President's choice of a new chief justice to replace the late Harlan F. Stone and of a new member of the court to succeed the man who will be elevated to the presiding spot are expected to be announced early this week—possibly tomorrow.

That much was known definitely, but White House candidates for the most part declined to verify this latest speculation: (1) that either Robert H. Jackson or William O. Douglas will be moved up to head the court and (2) that Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, a Republican, will be added to its membership.

Jackson, a close friend of Mr. Truman, is serving as chief U. S. prosecutor at the Nazi war crimes trials in Nuremberg and probably would not return to the bench before the June adjournment even if he gets the nod. The new court term opens in October.

Some Capitol Hill friends of the President said they think that if Patterson is moved into the tripartite, W. Stewart Symington, assistant secretary of war for air, might be considered for the cabinet post.

Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan, who also is Democratic national chairman, conferred with Mr. Truman for several hours yesterday aboard the presidential yacht Williamsburg, which brought the Chief Executive back to the capital from a week-long vacation.

Roxas Receives Best Wishes From Loser, Sergio Osmena

Manila, April 29 (AP)—President-elect Manuel A. Roxas, who will guide the Philippines Republic through its critical first years, received the good wishes today of Sergio Osmena, who conceded defeat.

With tabulation of last week's election nearly completed, Roxas held a 183,000-vote lead over Osmena, incumbent president.

"I wish my successor well and pray that he will be given wisdom and strength for the great task he will shortly assume as first chief executive of the Philippines Republic," Osmena said in a formal statement concerning the election. "He will carry very heavy responsibilities for us all, and we must support him in everything that is right."

For Osmena, the concession represented a temporary end to 42 years as a leader in Philippine politics. For Roxas the victory was the climax of a career which began at 29, when he was elected governor of his home province of Cebu. He is now 54.

The colorful Roxas, recognized as one of the most brilliant orators in the islands, had had a part in the Philippines government since 1922, when he was elected speaker of the house. Even the Japanese invasion stopped him only briefly. After a few months in prison, he joined the puppet Philippine government of "President" Jose Laurel.

When the Americans returned to Luzon, Roxas was on hand, ready to resume his prewar post of president of the senate.

Bollenbach Arrested After Automobile Crash

Following a collision between the automobiles driven by William Bollenbach, 42, of 88 Hasbrouck avenue, and Earl C. Hopkins of Hurley, at the Clinton and Albany avenues on Saturday evening, Bollenbach was placed under arrest by Hopkins, who charged him with reckless driving.

This morning in police court the hearing was adjourned to May 9, by Special City Judge Francis Martucci.

According to the police, both cars were damaged slightly, but no personal injuries were reported.

Statement Is Denied

Washington, April 29 (AP)—A Senate Judiciary Committee plans to investigate reports that American firms which helped manufacture radar and other electronic equipment are negotiating sales with a foreign power at the insistence of the State Department.

An informed official who declined use of his name said today that representatives of several companies have been summoned to appear Tuesday before the subcommittee. A State Department spokesman, meanwhile, denied that there is any truth to the report.

Police Charge Them With Stealing Local Car; Say They Admit Taking 3 Others

Three boys from Troy in their early teens were arrested here Saturday afternoon by Patrolmen George P. Bowers and Henry Ronnenberg, who charged them with the theft of a local automobile, and while questioning them learned that they had stolen three other cars.

The radio car patrolmen, suspicious of the youthfulness of the trio, ranging in age from 13 to 14 years, stopped them on Albany avenue for a check-up on licenses. During the investigation it was learned by the police that the boys had stolen the sedan in front of the Colonial City Chevrolet, Inc., showroom on Broadway and Maiden Lane.

According to the police, the boys stole an automobile in Waterford and drove to Red Hook, where they abandoned it for a truck. They ran the vehicle to Camp Smith, near Peekskill and left it there.

In Ossining, the boys took another truck the police said, and drove to Kingston. They quit this trip for the Chevrolet concern sedan in which they were arrested. The truck taken in Ossining is in the hands of the local police.

The three boys were held for arraignment in children's court here.

Demand for Help Causes End of Contact Program

Stanton Says 117 Receive Placements in 2-Week Period; 24 Men Are Veterans

Heavy demand for local help has resulted in a temporary cessation of the United States Employment Service employer-contact program, George J. Stanton, manager of the Kingston office, said today.

The demand for help covered a wide variety of jobs, some involving seasonal occupations, Mr. Stanton said. He said a breakdown of jobs offered would reveal essentially the same types of occupations listed several times in the past by the local office.

Requests from national headquarters will be tabulated for about a week, Mr. Stanton said, in order to insure maximum effort on effecting local placements.

The district manager revealed that 17 placements were made in the two-week period ending Saturday. Of the total workers placed, 24 were veterans of World War 2. The Saugerties office reported 40 placements, including five veterans.

Response to the recent appeal for brickyard workers was excellent, Stanton reported. One yard—the Hutton Company—was able to secure its full quota of workers and is now operating at maximum capacity. Other brickyards in the area reported a decided improvement in number of workers applying for jobs.

"Response Not Very Good" The response to jobs advertised by national headquarters is not very good among area workers, Stanton observed.

"Although many good jobs turn up," Stanton said, "people of the area are generally reticent to bid for them. This may be due to many factors, particularly the housing situation throughout the country."

In this connection, Stanton announced that the local U.S.E.S. office has a complete library at the disposal of labor, business and industry alike. Any organization, business men or individual who is interested in checking on labor and industrial conditions in any section of the nation can find ready reference material at the U.S.E.S. office.

The problem of placing returned war veterans still is the most serious facing U.S.E.S. offices throughout the country, Stanton said. In some cases, not necessarily involving just soldiers, two or three referrals may be needed to close a job.

"The turnover in jobs occupied by veterans is terrific at the present time, Stanton declared. 'Some of them quit after receiving their first pay, others are dissatisfied for various reasons.'

Stanton could not estimate the total number of veterans still idle in Kingston, but ventured the opinion it was "considerable."

Man Hurt in Collision At Milton on Sunday

Virgil McNitt, 65, of Palmer, Mass., was seriously injured about 3:45 Saturday afternoon when he was struck while standing by his own car, which at the time was parked opposite the Valley Rest, on N.W. at Milton.

He was taken to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, suffering from compound fracture of the left leg, a fractured pelvis, a dislocated hip and shock. His condition Sunday evening was reported as fair. Today he was off the danger list, it was reported by the hospital.

Corporal Dunn and Trooper Kelly of the Highland Station, State Police, investigated the accident. They learned that a car being operated by Clarabelle Barton, 54, of Mt. Pleasant avenue, Troy, who was driving south on 9-W, skidded on the slippery pavement and struck McNitt's Cadillac sedan, which was parked alongside the road and near which he was standing. The force of the blow caused McNitt's car to slide, striking him and knocking him down.

Knaust Building Burns in Catskill

Fire late Saturday afternoon destroyed a large two-story frame building housing a woodworking shop operated by the Knaust Brothers in Catskill. Cause of the blaze was not determined, and the loss was not estimated by shop officials.

The fire, which raged for more than two hours, was fought by three Catskill fire companies assisted by the Athens Fire Co. The firemen succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to an adjoining large building, which was separated from the blazing shop by a 20-foot alleyway.

Discovery of the fire was at 4:30 o'clock, and a general alarm was sounded immediately. When the firemen reached the shop it was to find it a mass of flames.

Hampered at the start by low water pressure, the firemen concentrated on saving the adjoining building, also owned by Knaust Brothers. This building is in the process of being converted into a cannery.

The property is well known as the old Amos Post cedar mill, and was purchased by Knaust Brothers about four years ago. During the war more than 150 persons were employed in the shop in the manufacture of bomb boxes. Reconversion to civilian production was accomplished last summer, and since that time approximately 60 persons were employed at the plant in making mushroom boxes and soda and beer cases.

Tojo, 27 Others Are Indicted

military affairs bureau, war ministry.

Teichi Suzuki, former president of the cabinet planning board.

Hirohito Is Not Named

Not mentioned in the indictments were Emperor Hirohito and a half dozen of Tojo's former cabinet ministers: Michio Yuzawa, Mutsu Iwamura, Kunihiko Hashida, Hiroya Ino, Nobusuke Kishi and Vice Adm. Ken Terajima.

Keenan did not refer to them, but commented that omission of a name "in no sense implies" exoneration; other names may be added.

Indictments included specific charges of starting the war against the 11 allied nations, and 16 of the prisoners—including Tojo—were accused of murder by "ordering, causing and permitting the armed forces of Japan to attack territory, ships and airplanes" of other nations in the December 7, 1941, sneak attack. The charges listed as: murdered some 4,000 Americans at Pearl Harbor and others in the Philippines.

"It may seem strange to include charges of murder," said Keenan, "but it is high time that promoter of aggressive, ruthless war and treaty-breakers should be stripped of glamour—and exposed as they are—plain, ordinary murderers."

On another murder count, all defendants were held responsible for planning "to procure and permit murder on a wholesale scale of prisoners of war . . . in ruthless pursuit of victory in the unlawful war . . ."

Twelve were charged with killing many thousands of Chinese civilians and 14 were charged with murder of Russian troops in 1938-1939.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 million of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent urination, sometimes with a burning and stinging sensation, is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and live a miserable, restless sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Thruway Plans May Close May 15 as Bids Are Opened

Plans for actual work on the site on four projects involved in the two hundred million New York State Thruway may be closed May 15, when bids will be opened by the State Department of Public Works. The projects affect three sections of the extensive route, it was learned today.

Details of construction on miles of highway grading and structures including links south of Albany, north of Syracuse and southwest of Buffalo, will be made known at that time. Total of engineers' estimate for the cost of the four projects is $7,858,000.

One Ulster county project will come up in the May 15 bidding. It involves the building of 3.77 miles of cable guide railing on Route 52 between Pine Bush and Ellenville. The estimated cost is $43,000.

Seventy-five maps covering rights of way for highway construction in Broome, Westchester, Seneca and Ulster counties have been filed with the Secretary of State by the Department of Public Works. Nearly twelve miles of construction is involved in the projects. No details were available regarding Ulster county's share in this program.

Counties Are Affected

Greene and Ulster counties are affected by two of the projects. The Catskill thruway from Saugerties to the Greene county line involves 3.69 miles of grading at a cost of $1,160,000. Four grade separation structures of 4-span, one-beam deck type will be constructed at Canoe Hill road, Katsbaan Road, Malden Road and Asbury Road, with a 20-foot span twin box culvert also included at Katsbaan Road.

The Catskill thruway in Greene county involves the expenditure of $1,005,000 on construction from the Ulster county line to the Rip Van Winkle Trail. This project will be 3.99 miles of grading and one concrete rigid-frame separation structure provided at Brick School House Road.

Preliminary construction in the Buffalo area will cost $2,740,000, while in the area around Syracuse, a total of $849,000 will be spent on grading and building of rigid-frame separation structures.

L. A. Bohan Held For Stealing Auto

Hyatt and McDonough Are Complimented by Chief

Lawrence A. Bohan, 20, of 140 Spring street, waived examination today when arraigned before Special City Judge Francis Martucci, and was held to await grand jury action on a charge of second degree larceny in the alleged theft of the Ford roaster of Leo McGrath of 34 Meadow street.

"Officers Kenneth Hyatt and Walter McDonough did an excellent job of police work," said Chief of Police Charles Phinney in commenting on the arrest of Bohan and the recovery of the automobile.

The police chief said that the two officers while on duty in one of the radio cars noticed a youth attempting to start the auto which had been parked near the McGrath home at 34 Meadow street, shortly after 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

"When the youth saw the police car," said Chief Phinney, "he got out of the car and ran away." The officers, whose suspicions were aroused by the youth's action drove around the corner and parked the radio car and then walked back to the McGrath house.

"As the officers approached the parked car they saw the youth jump into it, and drive away," said Chief Phinney, "and they gave chase and placed him under arrest on the larceny charge when he failed to produce proof of ownership of the automobile."

Food Savers

By VIRGINIA VAN DER VEER
Washington, April 29 (AP)—There is a starving family on your doorstep. Will you turn them away?

They are the hungry millions of Europe, China, India. Their food must come from every American home, as surely as if they knocked on the door and asked.

You want to feed them but don't know how? The bureau of home economics of the Agriculture Department says these are some of the ways:

Hungry families in Europe need bread. Starving thousands in China need rice. Americans who eat potatoes can give them both.

Use mashed potatoes instead of toast under creamed meat, chicken, fish. Try poached eggs baked in nests of mashed potato.

Ask for potato salad instead of bread. Try mashed potatoes instead of pastry atop meat pies and other baked dishes.

At breakfast, serve potatoes occasionally instead of wheat cereal or breads. One small serving of potato is equal in food value to a slice of bread.

Use those leftovers. Mashed potatoes make potato cakes, boiled potatoes can be turned into hash-brown or creamed potatoes.

In making pancakes, replace a large part of the flour with freshly grated potato. Let mashed potatoes do duty for some of the flour in making hot potato scones and rolls.

Use potatoes in place of rice, whenever possible.

Don't throw rice at weddings. You may be tossing away a starving child's dinner.

Dozen Senators May Be Absent at Loan Vote Time

Some Are Ill, Some Are Campaigning, Two Are in Paris as Byrne Aides

Washington, April 29 (AP)—The Senate, driving toward a vote late this week on the $3,750,000,000 British Loan Bill, may find a dozen members absent at roll call time.

With both sides predicting a nip-and-tuck battle, the absence—or presence—of these senators could determine the outcome.

Some, such as Senators Glass (D-Va.) and Bailey (D-N.C.) are ill. Others, including Bilbo (D-Miss) and Gossett (D-Idaho) are in their home states campaigning.

Senators Connally (D-Texas) and Vandenberg (R-Mich) are in Paris as advisers to Secretary of State Byrnes at the Foreign Ministers Conference.

Of these and six others listed privately as likely absentees, seven either have announced for the credit arrangement or are reported veering in that direction. Two are definitely against it, and another has indicated he probably will vote "no." The other two have not made known their positions.

Thus the administration glumly faces a situation which practically cancels the narrow lead run up by loan supporters in a necessarily incomplete poll of the senators. The latest count of those willing to state their positions publicly showed 32 for the loan, 27 against.

Meanwhile, supporters of one amendment contended they gained important ground by Iceland's announcement over the week-end that that island country in the North Atlantic had rejected American requests for leases on three wartime military bases.

Senator McFarland (D-Ariz) proposed the pending amendment which would require England to yield title to Atlantic bases now under 99-year lease to this country before the British could draw on the loan.

While Icelandic action has no direct bearing on the Senate debate, Senator Edwin Johnson (D-Colo.) told a reporter it suggests "that we are a few years late in our request for bases there—we should have asked when they were in danger."

GUESTS EMBARRASS HOSTESS
A letter tells me: "I thought I knew how to handle all hostess situations likely to come my way, but the following experience not only was embarrassing at the time, but also has troubled me ever since. One Sunday afternoon some friends, who live about 40 miles away, came to see us. I took it for granted that they merely had stopped to see us on an afternoon's outing or perhaps on their way elsewhere. I had not dreamed that they would drive that distance with two young children and count on staying to supper."

"As they stayed on and on the children became restless and said they were hungry, so I made orangeades for them. When they asked if that was all the supper they were to have, it developed that our visitors were taking it as a matter of course that they would be included at our supper table."

"Unfortunately, we had a dinner engagement that evening and had absolutely nothing in our icebox—not a drop of milk! I even had given the children the oranges intended for our next morning's breakfast. When they asked about supper, I had to tell them of our dinner engagement and our empty larder. They said they understood, but I don't think they did and I am really chagrined! But please, Mrs. Post, what could I have done?"

The answer is, of course, nothing.

Demand for Help Causes End of Contact Program

Stanton Says 117 Receive Placements in 2-Week Period; 24 Men Are Veterans

Heavy demand for local help has resulted in a temporary cessation of the United States Employment Service employer-contact program, George J. Stanton, manager of the Kingston office, said today.

The demand for help covered a wide variety of jobs, some involving seasonal occupations, Mr. Stanton said. He said a breakdown of jobs offered would reveal essentially the same types of occupations listed several times in the past by the local office.

Requests from national headquarters will be tabled for about a week, Mr. Stanton said, in order to insure maximum effort on effecting local placements.

The district manager revealed that 117 placements were made in the two-week period ending Saturday. Of the total workers placed, 24 were veterans of World War 2. The Saugerties office reported 40 placements, including five veterans.

Response to the recent appeal for brickyard workers was excellent, Stanton reported. One yard—the Hutton Company—was able to secure its full quota of workers and is now operating at maximum capacity. Other brickyards in the area reported a decided improvement in number of workers applying for jobs.

"Response Not Very Good"

The response to jobs advertised by national headquarters is not very good among area workers, Stanton observed.

"Although many good jobs turn up," Stanton said, "people of the area are generally reticent to bid for them. This may be due to many factors, particularly the housing situation throughout the country."

In this connection, Stanton announced that the local U.S.E.S. office has a complete library at the disposal of labor, business and industry alike. Any organization, business man or individual who is interested in checking on labor and industrial conditions in any section of the nation can find ready reference material at the U.S.E.S. office.

The problem of placing returned war veterans still is the most serious facing U.S.E.S. offices throughout the country, Stanton said. In some cases, not necessarily involving just soldiers, two or three referrals may be needed to close a job.

"The turnover in jobs occupied by veterans is terrific at the present time, Stanton declared. "Some of them quit after receiving their first pay, others are dissatisfied for various reasons."

Stanton could not estimate the total number of veterans still idle in Kingston, but ventured the opinion it was "considerable."

Man Hurt in Collision At Milton on Sunday

Virgil McNitt, 65, of Palmer, Mass., was seriously injured about 3:45 Saturday afternoon when he was struck while standing by his own car, which at the time was parked opposite the Valley Rest, on 9-W, at Milton.

He was taken to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, suffering from a compound fracture of the left leg, a fractured pelvis, a dislocated hip and shock. His condition Sunday evening was reported as fair. Today he was off the danger list, it was reported by the hospital.

Corporal Dunn and Trooper Kelly of the Highland Station, State Police, investigated the accident. They learned that a car being operated by Charabelle Barton, 54, of Mt. Pleasant avenue, Troy, who was driving south on 9-W, skidded on the slippery pavement and struck McNitt's Cadillac sedan, which was parked alongside the road and near which he was standing. The force of the blow caused McNitt's car to slide, striking him and knocking him down.

Knaust Building Burns in Catskill

Fire late Saturday afternoon destroyed a large two-story frame building housing a woodworking shop operated by the Knaust Brothers in Catskill. Cause of the blaze was not determined, and the loss was not estimated by shop officials.

The fire, which raged for more than two hours, was fought by three Catskill fire companies assisted by the Athens Fire Co. The firemen succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to another large building nearby which was separated from the blazing shop by a 20-foot alleyway.

Discovery of the fire was at 4:30 o'clock, and a general alarm was sounded immediately. When the firemen reached the shop it was to find it a mass of flames.

Hampered at the start by low water pressure, the firemen concentrated on saving the adjoining building, also owned by Knaust Brothers. This building is in the process of being converted into a cannery.

The property is well known as the old Ames Post office mill, and was purchased by Knaust Brothers about four years ago. During the war more than 150 persons were employed in the shop in the manufacture of bomb boxes. Reconversion to civilian production was accomplished last summer, and since that time approximately 50 persons have engaged in the plant in making mushroom boxes and soda and beer cases.

Thruway Plans May Close May 15 as Bids Are Opened

Plans for actual work on the site on four projects included in the two hundred million New York State Thruway may be closed May 15, when bids will be opened by the State Department of Public Works. The projects affect three sections of the extensive route, it was learned today.

Details of construction on miles of highway grading and structures including links south of Albany, north of Syracuse and southwest of Buffalo, will be made known at that time. Total of engineers' estimate for the cost of the four projects is $7,858,000.

Other highway construction in this letting brings the total mileage up to approximately 45.11 miles. Funds are available from accumulated wartime surpluses.

Counties Are Affected

Greene and Ulster counties are affected by two of the projects. The Catskill thruway from Saugerties to the Greene county line involves 3.99 miles of grading at a cost of $1,160,000. Four grade separation structures of 4-span, one-beam deck type will be constructed at Canoe Hill road, Katsbaan Road, Maiden Road and Asbury Road, with a 20-foot span twin box culvert also included at Katsbaan Road.

The Catskill thruway in Greene county involves the expenditure of $1,005,000 on construction from the Ulster county line to the Rip Van Winkle Trail. This project will be 3.99 miles of grading and one concrete rigid-frame separation structure provided at Brick School House Road.

Preliminary construction in the Buffalo area will cost $2,740,000, while in the area around Syracuse, a total of $849,000 will be spent on grading and building of rigid-frame separation structures.

One Ulster county project will come up in the May 15 bidding. It involves the building of 5.77 miles of cable guide railing on Route 52 between Pine Bush and Ellenville. The estimated cost is $43,000.

Seventy-five maps covering rights of way for highway construction in Broome, Westchester, Seneca and Ulster counties have been filed with the Secretary of State by the Department of Public Works. Nearly twelve miles of construction is involved in the projects. No details were available regarding Ulster county's share in this program.

De la Rocque Dies

Paris, April 29 (AP)—Col. Francois de la Rocque, 53, founder of the once-powerful "Cross of Fire" political party, died in a Paris hospital Sunday after a major operation. A former army officer, retired soldier, formed the "Cross of Fire" as a rightist, nationalist movement, and was frequently mentioned in the 1930's as a future "dictator" of France. Always an enemy of the Nazis, he was arrested by the Germans in Paris in 1941, but later released. He was again taken into custody in 1943, this time accused of espionage, and removed to an internment camp in Germany from which he was liberated last year.

L. A. Bohan Held For Stealing Auto

Hyatt and McDonough Are Complimented by Chief

Lawrence A. Bohan, 20, of 140 Spring street, waived examination today when arraigned before Special City Judge Francis Martucci, and was held to await grand jury action on a charge of second degree larceny in the alleged theft of the Ford roaster of Leo McGrath of 34 Meadow street.

"Officers Kenneth Hyatt and Walter McDonough did an excellent job of police work," said Chief of Police Charles Phinney in commenting on the arrest of Bohan and the recovery of the automobile.

The police chief said that the two officers while on duty in one of the radio cars noticed a youth attempting to start the auto which had been parked near the McGrath home at 34 Meadow street, shortly after 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

"When the youth saw the police car," said Chief Phinney, "he got out of the car and ran away." The officers, whose suspicions were aroused by the youth's action drove around the corner and parked the radio car and then walked back to the McGrath house.

"As the officers approached the parked car they saw the youth jump into it, and drive away," said Chief Phinney, "and they gave chase and placed him under arrest on the larceny charge when he failed to produce proof of ownership of the automobile."

Sahry Pasha, Egyptians have indicated a direct interest in the Italian colonial question. Despite today's tough agenda, the four ministers came to the session in an atmosphere of friendliness and conciliation. Senator Arthur H. Hirohito Is Not Named

Not mentioned in the indictments were Emperor Hirohito and a half dozen of Tojo's former cabinet ministers: Michio Yuzawa, Michio Iwamura, Kunihiko Hashida, Hiroyo Ino, Nobusuke Kishi and Vice Adm. Ken Terajima.

Keenan did not refer to them, but commented that omission of a name "in no sense implies" exoneration; other names may be added.

Indictments included specific charges of starting the war against the 11 allied nations, and 16 of the prisoners—including Tojo—were accused of murder by "ordering, causing and permitting the armed forces of Japan to attack territory, ships and airplanes" of other nations in the December 7, 1941, sneak attacks. The charge listed as murdered some 4,000 Americans at Pearl Harbor and others in the Philippines.

"It may seem strange to include charges of murder," said Keenan, "but it is high time that promoter of aggressive, ruthless war and treaty-breakers should be stripped of glamour—and exposed as they are—plain, ordinary murderers."

On another murder count, all defendants were held responsible for planning "to procure and permit murder on a wholesale scale of prisoners of war... in ruthless pursuit of victory in the unlawful war."

Twelve were charged with killing many thousands of Chinese civilians and 14 were charged with murder of Russian troops in 1938-1939.

UP TO US

After much vague emotional talk about voluntary food rationing in order to share this country's stocks with the world's starving millions, the government's 25 per cent wheat cut order was a relief. In general the "warm heart of America" was entirely willing to do without in order to save lives abroad, but individuals were at a loss to know exactly how to do it.

From now on until July 1, wheat will be diverted at its source to be channelled into empty stomachs in other lands. The American can now go ahead and use what is left with a free conscience. The pity is that such a definite program was not instituted long before. Already too many lives have been sacrificed because of this country's delay, and too many children have been irreparably injured by dietary lacks.

Probably few American housewives will serve such scant fare to their families as the two-day-a-week European diet suggested by President Truman, in addition to the 25 per cent cut taken at the source. But trying it once or twice might be a very good idea to give families the practical example of what such a diet means. If the two-day-a-week fast is not generally introduced, simplification of daily food should be. Elaborate family feasts, convention banquets, party luncheons and teas should be ruled out for the next few months. Every slice of bread saved, every pie not made, and every backyard garden planted helps. Individual efforts may seem small. But multiplied by those of millions of other Americans they mean millions of lives saved.

Boys and gardens seldom agree, but they can be tempted into growing things for themselves, if parents will praise every flower and vegetable.

CROWDED HOTELS

Planning a vacation away from home this summer? Better be sure to get hotel reservations before starting out. There is likely to be greater crowding of hotels than ever before. The reasons are, first, that more people are determined to have a vacation this year. War work and gasoline rationing kept everyone close to home during the war. Now everybody with a car or money for railway or bus fare wants to get out and go places. Then, there are more veterans at home to enjoy civilian vacations. There are more new cars, too, and tires, and space in cars and busses. Inland and coastwise passenger ship travel, much of which was closed down for the war, is starting up again.

The biggest reason of all is a great hunger for travel.

The worst thing about Europe now is that it can't buy soap enough to keep clean. Maybe we should ship 'em an occasional cargo. But where would we get it?

SPRING FOOLISHNESS

These spring days are not only a time of rare enjoyment and exhilaration for living creatures in general, but also a time when boys are just naturally eager to start doing crazy things—as their fathers have probably done before them. Things like this, for instance, reported in the newspapers.

A twelve-year-old boy, playing around with his pals, was seized with what you might call a burning desire to be a fire-eater. He had seen such a performance at a show, and wanted to impress his pals. So he filled his mouth with cigarette lighter fluid and blew it onto a lighted match. The result can be imagined. He is said to be still in the hospital, with severe second degree burns on his face and hands. Will other reckless lads profit by his foolishness?

FIGHTING FAMINE

The great war, supposedly over, was only slumbering. It now enters the next phase, which is famine. And if the normal procedure continued, vast areas of the civilized world might soon reach the third and most terrible phase, which is pestilence. May God, leagued with human intelligence and coop-

THE LA FOLLETTES COME A-HOMING

The La Follette clan in Wisconsin has, for many years, used their independence to play safe politically. Thus Bob La Follette, for many years, served Mr. Roosevelt and the New Deal as valiantly as many a senator who reached that chamber on Mr. Roosevelt's coat-tail. He broke with the New Deal on the war, he and his brother, Phil, pursuing the courageous wisdom of their father, foreseeing many of the evils which now are upon us. When war came, however, Phil, like many another America Firster, donned the uniform, and punctuated his every sentence with lusty attacks on Hitler, remained in Washington to pursue the greater wisdom in civilian attire and in the ease and comfort of the elite who govern us.

Republicans regard it as a happy augury that the La Follettes have returned to the Republican Party although they remain a bit suspicious of the purity of their dogma. The assumption is that Bob and Phil have carefully noted the signs of the times, put their four ears to the ground, measured the swell of anti-New Dealism and have, in good time, put themselves in good standing in the next majority party. As a Republican, Bob La Follette will be very powerful in the Senate when that party comes to power, as important as Taft and Vandenberg. And as for Phil, he is of the maturity and political stature that fits a cabinet post or one of those higher administrative agencies that are so attractive to those who have a yen for governing others.

On the other hand, the return of the La Follettes bodes no good for Harold Stassen, as their weekly, "The Progressive," makes clear. Two weeklies in the United States represent what might be termed unadulterated Liberalism. They are the La Follette "The Progressive" and the Socialist, "The New Leader." The old liberal organ, "The Nation," has gone the way of all flesh, succumbing to the blandishments of Marxian totalitarianism, and "The New Republic" suffers from unbelievable intellectual and moral confusion, enjoying a cloudiness that thickens every week until Michael Straight speaks only to Bruce Bliven and Bliven speaks only to himself.

"The Progressive" and "The New Leader" have managed, throughout this miserable era of deception and cant, to remain honest, integrated and true to their convictions. No matter how much one differs from them, their adherence to principle must be and is admired by those who are still stirred by intellectual courage. They are intellectual oases in the American moral desert.

"The Progressive" has been moved to question the validity of Harold Stassen's claims to liberalism or to most any other form of political thought. The Republican contender might, of course, reply that thought is a candidate for the presidency; that, in success, have even sat in the White House to whom an independent and clear thought would be as repugnant as independence is to a C.I.O. congressman. He might say that a candidate is worthy who has the glamor of Van Johnson, the fact of Lowell Thomas, and a ghost, the radio intonation of Lowell Rosenman. It is such a combination of the winds, he might say.

Nevertheless, with the La Follettes back in the Republican party, the high priesthood of Liberalism in that organization is filled. Phil and Bob will have a powerful say as to who is and who is not a Liberal, should it become necessary to indicate that sort of a facade. It is not their liking, the fact that Harold Stassen is not to their liking, that Conservative among the Republicans may take their word for it. They know where Bob La Follette stands; they wonder about Harold Stassen.

Meanwhile, the question arises about Senator Shipstead. Should he, and not Harold Stassen's personal candidate in Minnesota, win the election, the fact is clear that the La Follettes are right about Stassen, and that will finish his presidential aspirations for good. Should Shipstead be defeated, it might lead to the conclusion that Stassen is a bigger factor than is now assumed. It is on things like that, that great hopes rise and fall.

TEETH OF CHINESE

It is known that the Chinese as a race have lower blood pressure than have the people of the United States and Canada. It is known also that the Chinese coming to live in the United States and Canada have an increased blood pressure after living in the Western Hemisphere a few years. And it is likewise known that Americans or Canadians going to live in China gradually have a decrease in blood pressure. Although the food may be a factor to some extent, it is generally agreed that the Chinese mode of life—quietness, lack of hurry and bustle—tends to lower or prevent a rise in blood pressure; it is likewise agreed that our manner of life with its hurry, hustle and bustle increases the blood pressure.

Another fact of interest as showing the effect of foods and habits of life on the teeth of Chinese reared in China and in America is stated by Dr. Gabriel W. Lasker in the American Journal of Physical Anthropology (shape or physique of body).

A comparison is made of dental conditions among 281 adult male Chinese in the United States and 367 Chinese male prisoners in Peking.

What did the comparison show?

1. It showed that immigrants from China have less decay of teeth than American-born Chinese, but seem to have more decay of teeth than Chinese reared in China.

2. The later in life Chinese immigrated to the United States the less decay of teeth was found.

3. American-born Chinese, who had lived part of their lives in China have less decay of teeth than those who have never been in China.

One characteristic of the teeth of the Chinese is that the shovel-shaped incisors (front or biting teeth)—are always the same. There is no difference between the number of cases between American born Chinese and in immigrant Chinese who came to the United States after their teeth had been formed.

The above facts seem to show that foods in their natural state are more effective in nourishing the teeth and preventing decay than foods that have been milled and refined.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

For Shady Spot, Try Tuberous Begonias

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Released by Central Press Association

THERE is an answer to the gardener's prayer for something that will bloom, vivid and gay, in the shade. It is tuberous begonias.

They produce large, brilliant blooms, 5 to 10 inches across. The colors range from white through yellow to salmon and orange and from pink to deepest red.

They will do well on the north side of the house if attention is given to good culture.

To grow happily, tuberous begonias require shade, rich soil and moisture. They are surface feeders, as their roots spread horizontally. Well-rotted manure and bone meal should be forked into the outdoor bed where they are to be grown.

About the first of July mulch the plants with peat and bone meal, or sheep manure. Plants growing in boxes or baskets should be fed with weak liquid manure water once a week. During dry weather soak the beds thoroughly with water, and wash the foliage with a fine spray.

Because it takes time to get the plants into flower, it's usually advisable to start the tubers early. If puzzled as to which side of a tuberous begonia tuber is "up," remember that they are concave on top, as illustrated in the accompanying "Garden-Graph."

If you want to play safe about planting tuberous begonia tubers, don't plant them until the pink tips begin to show. You need only leave the tubers in a bag and they will begin to sprout.

If you have tuberous begonia tubers from previous plantings, you can increase your supply by propagating by division. To do this divide the tuber with a sharp knife into sections as illustrated. Take care not to injure the sprouts in each section.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Broadway, between St. James street and Elmendorf street, was wider years ago than at the present time, according to an old newspaper clipping which told that Harry S. Watts, president of the local civil service board, resigned after 20 years of service as a member of the board.

The local Works Progress Administration was employing 873 men in various projects in Kingston. The present line of Broadway, between the two streets mentioned, was adopted by the Common Council in 1879, when the aldermen adopted the survey made in 1874 by D. T. Van Buren, and which narrowed the street at those points from 11 feet at the wider part to about two feet at the other end.

The matter was brought to the attention of the Common Council in 1927 when Henry Klein, Harris Brown and N. B. Gross purchased a property on Broadway, near St. James street, and asked the aldermen to grant them a release.

Two well known men who died in September, 1927, in the city, were Thomas Donaldson, a retired mason and builder of West Pierpoint street, and John D. Tibbals, a clerk for 27 years in the Bernstein clothing store on Wall street.

Both men were active for years in the Knights of Pythias, and Mr. Tibbals at one time held a state office in the organization. Mr. Tibbals died in his home on Washington avenue on September 30.

Prior to entering the employ of the Bernstein store he had been a member of the clothing firm of Lawrence & Tibbals, and had also clerked in other clothing stores of the city.

Mr. Donaldson for years was active in the building trades in Kingston.

Another well known man who died on August 13, 1927, was John A. Heiser of Green street, aged 83 years. Mr. Heiser located in Kingston when 20 years of age, and with George B. Merritt and others formed the George B. Merritt Company, a concern who for years conducted a high class dry goods store on Wall street on the site of the present Kingston Theatre.

When the company dissolved Mr. Heiser became associated with L. E. Schoonmaker Shoe Co. of New York, and remained with that concern until it went out of business.

For a number of years Mr. Heiser was also a commercial traveler, and his territory covered the state.

Older readers will readily recall the Merritt dry goods store on Wall street, as for years it was one of the leading dry goods stores in the city.

Employment, Payrolls Show March Increase

Albany, N. Y., April 29 (AP)—Manufacturing industry employment rose 4.8 per cent and payrolls increased 12 per cent in March compared with February although both categories are below levels of 1945.

The State Labor Department also reported today that the end of the steel strike and continued expansion in consumers goods industries accounted for the March increases. Average weekly earnings for manufacturing were $48.25, a gain of $2.64 over February.

In the same period last year employment was 18.3 per cent higher and pay rolls 21.7 per cent more. Weekly pay then averaged $53.48.

In New York city employment went up 2.7 per cent in March and pay rolls increased 16.2 per cent. In the Kingston-Newburgh-Poughkeepsie area the increases were 3.3 for employment and 4.7 for pay rolls.

Truman's Study of Points of Difference Between Services May Bring Compromise on Merger Proposal

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 29—Talk of a compromise on the much-discussed merger of the Army and Navy has this basis: President Truman is beginning a study to learn just what the points of difference are between the services.

Mr. Truman has been apprised of at least one important factor that he did not know existed, and it has prompted him to inquire further. It concerns the proposal of the War Department that all shore-based aircraft should hereafter come under control of the Army Air Forces, including Navy airplanes that do not operate from the decks of carriers.

This raised a furore in the Navy, for it meant the introduction of hazards in the functioning of anti-submarine patrols. The Navy is not at all interested in getting control of Army planes that fly from ocean bases or anywhere else if they are engaged in strategic bombing or combat operations along with troops. But the Navy insists that any pilots who fly over water to engage in operations requiring flight directions or guidance from naval ships should be trained by the Navy and subject to navy discipline.

During the war, the Navy operated many planes from points like Bermuda and the Azores in the fight against Nazi U-boats. Often the fliers relayed their messages to or obtained intelligence from destroyers or other warships. The need for close cooperation between units of the Navy, whether they fly in the air or operate on or below the surface is stressed by Navy commanders. Navy pilots are trained to avoid firing on our own destroyers or submarines and how to recognize them. This is not at all related to Army Air operations which are either concerned with tactical protection for ground troops or strategic bombing of the enemy's factories or bases.

The President is reported to have shown much interest in the Navy's view of the importance of classifying shore-based aircraft so that the Navy would retain control of those of its units which use land bases but which primarily traverse water areas. Mr. Truman is understood to have expressed disbelief that any such plan to weaken the Navy's air arm in fighting submarines and in carrying on patrols related to strictly naval operations was contemplated, but he was shown the exact detail in an approved plan of the War Department.

Another point in which the President is believed to have become interested is the reported plan to deprive the Marine Corps of its independence by merging it with Army ground forces. This is opposed because the Marine Corps has specialized in amphibious warfare and its officers in 1941 were so far advanced in the art that they helped to train Army units under General MacArthur. This is the fact that the southwest Pacific Army units did so much better in their landings and island hopping than did other Army units.

The Marine Corps is ideally suited for the special tasks of amphibious operations. These are bound to become more, rather than less, important in the future. Most people do not know that the Marine Corps divisions were quickly expanded because a nucleus of trained personnel was available. The Marine Corps divisions had their own artillery and tactical air force. To keep this highly specialized group as a nucleus for emergency needs now is the real reason why the navy is supporting the idea of maintaining the identity of the Marine Corps.

It is doubtful whether President Truman realized the extent to which those interested in getting a larger share of the defense budget and their own services had gone in their recommended pruning of other specialized services with which they really were not too familiar. The kind of troops who can push ahead as the Marines did at Guam, Saipan, Peleliu, and Iwo Jima are not developed unless there is a tradition and a spirit behind them among the regulars. Unless this nucleus sees the Marine Corps retaining its present status, it will be difficult to keep a specialized group of the national defense of the United States will be that much weaker.

So Mr. Truman is discovering that the fear of really weakening or impairing the efficiency of the Navy and Marine Corps is not just a dream of newspaper writers or Navy officers but has been of it a better understanding than the public has of the real meaning of the so-called merger. It is gratifying that the President is looking into the matter. It wouldn't be surprising if his visit last Friday with General Eisenhower—as a man who has as much as a man as has appeared in the general services plan more to do with this defense plan as a whole than with bases in the Pacific, as was indicated by first reports last week. OVERLOOKED ANGLES ON THE O.P.A.

There are two extremely important things about the O.P.A. fight. One is its results, of course. Are we to go under artificially set prices which are not prices at all, as we shall see? And two is the methods of the fight.

Price restrictions do nothing short of change entirely the meaning of the word "price" as it has been used since the beginning of barter among men, particularly as it has been used in the free economy established by the organizers of this nation. Price restriction and price setting change "price" from "what a thing costs" to an arbitrary sum set by higher authority at which the price must be exchanged, while the disposer is bonused for his loss with money entirely foreign to the deal itself.

But prices will not continue half arbitrary and half free. We have learned that, already. Bureaucrats would have us pay yet more dearly for the lesson.

Come, now, the method used in this O.P.A. fight: Our simple people think only, "Can some policeman make somebody sell at prices I can pay? I trust you have noticed the new technique brazenly indulged in by hired civil servants of this government. Until recently in the United States hired and salaried bureau chiefs never dared turn into obvious propagandists for their own jobs or to stamper the public into acceptance of their own pet ideas. What makes this new thing in our nation yet more flagrant is the use of government printed bulletins and taxpayers' money for such propaganda. When Admiral Merritt and other officers of the United States Navy, high and low, began appealing in a comparatively modest fashion to the American public over the heads of White House by Congress for preservation of the Navy Department—a matter of deep conviction as well as prestige with its leading officers—they were smartly and properly reprimanded by President Truman. Yet Chester A. Bowles shrieks to the heavens, uses radio the Congress, as every time the definition of its activities to the public—this is a matter of prime significance. The ruin of each free government in man's history has been marked by the move of administrators to swap the people directly, ignoring the constitutional representative authority.

Of course the American housewife and buyer and family provider are anxious—in fact, O.P.A. propagandists have keyed up their anxiety until they have made many persons almost frantic. Wives with what used to be an excellent husband's monthly salary of $500 just cannot see how to meet a cent of additional cost of housing, food clothing, repairs and medical bills. Feeling that they are drowning, they grasp at the straw heartlessly flung to them by New Dealers, in the shape of the promise that they will not have to pay more for these individual items if only they will see to it, that the bureaucrats running this show continue to get their $200,000,000 yearly budget. (In addition, of course, are some several billion dollars in subsidies and expenses loaded on law enforcement agencies to fight black marketers. O.P.A. propagandists never apprise the housewife that she is paying her share of this as a taxpayer.)

Our dollars have already been cheapened. There is only one honest way to face this tragic situation. That's the way Winston Churchill and his people faced the war—the uncomfortable way of blood-sucking, even as we frowned on giving comfort to the enemy during war.

Our bureaucrats do not understand this kind of American-mindedness, of course. They are thoroughly imbued with European mindsets. They only thought of solution for everything is restriction.

And it does not work here, because this is America—not Europe! But the American approach would work. With it, we would go through the stormy time successfully, and come out proud for it, selves, and a better nation for it. But I think we will have no nation at all if we do not do it this way. Scientists Can Warn Of Waves' Approach

La Jolla, Calif., April 29 (AP)—There is no way to predict tidal waves such as the disastrous one in the Pacific April 1 but knowledge gleaned by scientists during the war would make it possible to warn vulnerable coastal areas of their approach, says Dr. Harald U. Sverdrup, of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

Prediction of such waves is not possible, Dr. Sverdrup added, because usually they are caused by undersea earthquakes, and there is no way of predicting earth movements.

A warning service would require the establishment of sea and swell stations throughout the Pacific, he said. These stations would operate on principles similar to those used by Dr. Sverdrup and his associates in forecasting surf and swell conditions for amphibious military operations.

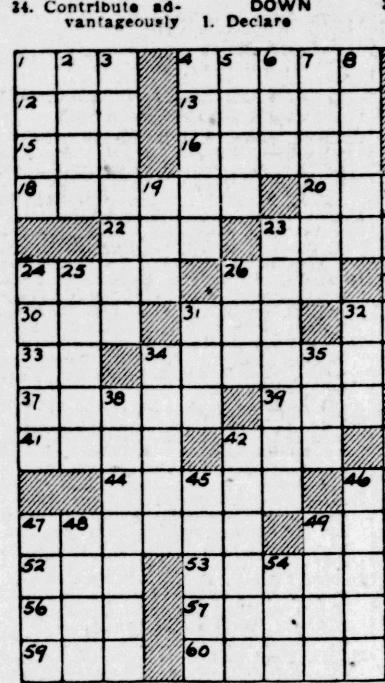

Dr. Sverdrup said the April 1 wave might have been caused by a two-foot movement upward or downward of several square miles of the ocean floor off the Aleutian Islands. The maximum wave height reported for the April 1 phenomenon was 100 feet.

Greeks Seek Sale

Athens, (AP)—Greece's rich tobacco, which represents nearly 50 per cent of her normal exports, for the past three years has been lying idle in warehouses seeking markets. Before the war Greece exported over 60,000 tons of tobacco annually—45,000 tons to Central Europe and 15,000 tons to America and Britain. Virtually the entire 1944 crop, 18,000 tons, and the entire 1945 crop of 25,000 tons are in warehouses here. U. S. tobacco agents are negotiating for the stored tobacco are handicapped by foreign exchange regulations and the lack of shipping.

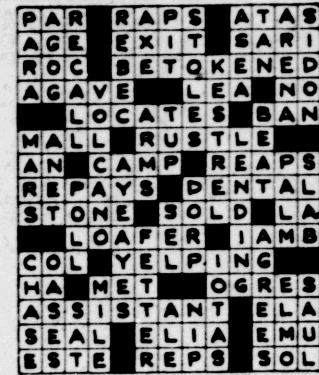

Slave trading was declared illegal in Africa in 1807.

Maoris Come to Terms

Maori natives of South Island, New Zealand, have agreed to accept $1,200,000, in 30 annual installments from the Government, in settlement of the Ngaitahu claim, which dates back to 1848. It is based on promises to the Maoris when South Island was ceded to the pakeha (whites). Some land was to be reserved for the natives, but this was not carried out, and has been a source of grievance ever since. Some of the money may be used for educating young Maoris and some for better housing.

Russians Dig Up Town

A city and a fabled castle have been found by Russian archaeologists in the Central Asian desert of the Kazakhstan Republic. The city is 1,500 years old but many of its arch, two-story buildings were in good condition and were entered without undue excavation. The ruins of Barak-Tan castle were in the same area. About this castle is a legend that after the local ruler had died, a dragon named Barak occupied it. The legend was so generally accepted that tribesmen never ventured near the castle.

Syracuse Confers Degrees; Loughran Honored at Rites

Appeals Court Chief Judge
Receives Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws

Syracuse, April 28 (Special)—Among eight persons who received honorary degrees at Syracuse University's 83rd commencement exercises was John T. Loughran of Kingston, chief judge of the New York State Court of Appeals.

The degree of doctor of laws was conferred on Judge Loughran by Chancellor William P. Tolley during the exercises, at which approximately 660 students—in the last spring commencement under the university's accelerated wartime program—received academic degrees.

Judge Loughran, born in Kingston in 1889, was graduated from Fordham University in 1911 and was admitted to the New York bar in the same year. He began law practice in Kingston and later moved to New York. In 1925 he received his LL.D. degree from Fordham. Five years later he became a Supreme Court justice and in 1934 moved up to the Court of Appeals. He was elected to his present post of chief judge last year.

Other recipients of honorary degrees were U. S. Sen. Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota, who delivered the commencement address, doctor of laws; Jacob C. Tressler of New York, author of widely read English textbooks, doctor of pedagogy; Frank Abrams of New York, chairman of the board of directors of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey), doctor of laws; retiring Dean Harold L. Butler of College of Fine Arts, Syracuse University, who became dean emeritus July 1, doctor of fine arts.

Also Charles E. Wilson of Schenectady, president of General Electric Company, doctor of laws; and Miss Sarah Blanding of Ithaca, dean of Cornell University's College of Home Economics and first woman president-elect of Vassar College, doctor of laws. Honorary degree of doctor of laws was to have been conferred on Charles A. Kirk, New York, executive vice president International Business Machines Corporation, but Chancellor Tolley received word Saturday illness would prevent his attendance. Degree will be conferred at third term commencement exercises August 26.

Wallace Says O.P.A. Defeat Would Be Bad

Boston, April 29 (P) — Predicting inflation if the O.P.A. were discontinued, Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace asserted that this would result in the "wiping out of the middle class in the crash following inflation."

He told the Massachusetts Independent Voters' Association last night that such a loss of the middle class would leave the United States "open to dictatorship."

Contending that one of the principles of present-day progressivism was support of the O.P.A., Wallace declared that "if O.P.A. were discontinued prices might go much higher than they did after World War one."

A memorial in tribute to the late Dr. George W. Ross, prominent and highly respected Port Jervis physician, has been proposed by Earle O. Terwilliger of Port Jervis.

Mr. Terwilliger's proposal, setting forth plans for a memorial erected by popular subscription among the residents of the Town of Esopus has been submitted to the town board of the Town of Esopus for official action.

Mr. Terwilliger's letter follows: April 22, 1946

To the Residents
Town of Esopus, N. Y.
Dear Friends:

One of our most loved and prominent men, Dr. George W. Ross, has, as you all know, just recently passed away. As a resident and practicing physician of our town of Esopus for more than 40 years, he gave to us, his friends and neighbors, a devotion to his practice which I feel can never be replaced.

Who would be more fitting to one so loved and admired by all, as a memorial to his lasting memory? If this suggestion would meet with the approval of Mrs. G. W. Ross, a suitable memorial could be erected on the Ross Park grounds in Port Jervis with funds obtained by popular subscription from the residents of the Town of Esopus.

I am delivering to the town board of the Town of Esopus a copy of this letter with a hope that they, as the governing body of the town, will arrange to carry out the above proposal.

Respectfully yours,
EARLE O. TERWILLIGER

Y.M.C.A. Drive First Report Meeting Tonight

All Captains and Workers Expected to Hand in Record Initial Amounts
at 'Y' Tonight

The first report meeting of workers engaged in the ward canvass for funds in the current financial campaign for the Kingston Y.M.C.A. will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the "Y" at which time all captains and workers will be present to make reports.

Dwight McEntee, chairman, reports that this will no doubt be the best initial report meeting of any recent campaign. Reports coming into headquarters over the week-end show that all ward workers are busy and are meeting with encouraging success. The Initial Gifts Committee will also report this evening. Surprising results are promised by some of the ward and all are working for the prizes that are promised for the best results obtained. Ice cream and cookies will be served at the meeting and every worker is urged to attend.

Chairman McEntee had an enjoyable experience Saturday afternoon when he called on a business firm which recently has taken over one of our local industrial plants which had not been in operation for several years. The new owners have spent a lot of money getting the plant in operation but without hesitation they cheerfully handed Mr. McEntee a most generous check for the work of the local Y.M.C.A.

Two factors have helped produce funds for the "Y" in this campaign. The first is that nearly 500 returned service men have been given free three-months' membership in the local "Y" and they gather there daily in large numbers where they can talk over their experiences, play games, exercise and relax amid pleasant surroundings. The other is the intention to re-open the Boys' Department, equip their rooms and secure an experienced boys' work secretary to handle this important work. Kingston people are showing that they approve of both these projects by their giving to the present campaign.

Lowe Boy Bitten By Police Dog on Ann Street Sunday

John Lowe, 14, of 196 First avenue, was severely bitten on the shoulder Sunday by a police dog said to be owned by Mrs. Lillian Brodhead of 14 Ann street.

According to a report made to the Kingston police, young Lowe was attacked by the dog as he walked through Ann street.

A man came to the rescue of the boy, driving the dog away, according to the police, but not before the animal had inflicted the wound. The boy was treated at the Kingston Hospital.

Sunday evening a report was phoned to the police that the dog

Food Policy Rates As Most Controversial

Tokyo, April 29 (P) — The Allied food policy in Japan is the most important of five controversial subjects which will come before the Allied Four Power Council for Japan at its third meeting tomorrow. The meeting will be the first official one under the chairmanship of George Atcheson, Jr., U. S. State Department career diplomat who is General MacArthur's political adviser.

Atcheson presided over an informal meeting last week shortly after his appointment, but that, Council attaches said, was merely a "friendly get-together" to discuss the Japanese election.

Thompson Says Labor Must Work To Defeat Dewey

State Communist Head
Says Party Will Aid
Coalition; Need
Is Alternative

New York, April 29 (P) — Robert Thompson, state Communist party chairman, announcing the party stand on the 1946 New York elections, says "the labor movement certainly must give high priority toward securing the defeat" of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey this fall.

"But if the slogan 'defeat Dewey at all costs' were adopted as a policy, it would be a good way of ensuring his election," Thompson said in an interview printed in the Sunday Worker.

He said the Communist party would "lend every support to coalition candidates fighting in the interests of the people," but would stand ready "if the situation demands it" to place "in the field and campaign for a Communist state ticket."

The party will put forward its own candidates in certain congressional and legislative districts, he said.

"Dewey can be defeated only if the people are given a real alternative to his program and not a so-called 'lesser evil' ersatz alternative," Thompson said, adding:

"The progressive forces in the labor movement should combat both those who want to make the labor movement a tail to the Dewey-Republican kite and those who want to make it a tail to the Truman-Democratic kite."

He said "groups which make for independent political action" should be strengthened, and listed "such organizations as the C.I.O. and Citizens' Political Action Committee, the Independent Citizens' Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, the American Labor Party and similar groups."

Factory Owner, 36, Is Charged With Swindling $500,000

Hogan Says Hydraulic Manufacturer Took Money on Basis of War Profits

New York, April 29 (P) — William B. Benjamin, 36-year-old factory owner, was under arrest today charged with forgery and grand larceny and District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said he admitted defrauding credit firms of more than $500,000—most of which he lost at the races.

Hogan said Benjamin made $200,000 legitimate profit during the war years, and used the reputation thus established to swindle his creditors.

Benjamin admitted losing $36,000 on a single race, Hogan said, quoting the businessman as saying his smallest bet on one race was $1,500. His worst day at the track, Hogan said, showed a loss of $46,000.

The attorney quoted Benjamin as saying he also lost $5,000 in one gambling session and $25,000 on three fights one night at Madison Square Garden.

He spent between $300,000 and $400,000 in two months, Hogan said.

The well-dressed Benjamin, wearing a blue tie upon which hand-painted red horses galloped symbolically, was held in $50,000 bail. Hearing was set for May 6.

Hogan said the manufacturer of hydraulic automobile jacks and screw machine parts obtained the $500,000 by borrowing money from discount and credit companies on the strength of orders and accounts payable which were fraudulent.

Hogan said creditors asked an investigation after they became suspicious and were told by Benjamin that his books had been burned.

The district attorney said Benjamin lived in the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark and the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York. Benjamin said his wife lived in Philadelphia.

Scientists Can Warn Of Waves' Approach

La Jolla, Calif., April 29 (AP)—There is no way to predict tidal waves such as the disastrous one in the Pacific April 1 but knowledge gleaned by scientists during the war would make it possible to warn vulnerable coastal areas of their approach, says Dr. Harald U. Sverdrup, of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

possible, Dr. Sverdrup added, because usually they are caused by undersea earthquakes, and there is no way of predicting earth movements.

A warning service would require the establishment of sea and swell stations throughout the Pacific, he said. These stations would operate on principles similar to those used by Dr. Sverdrup and his associates in forecasting surf and swell conditions for amphibious military operations.

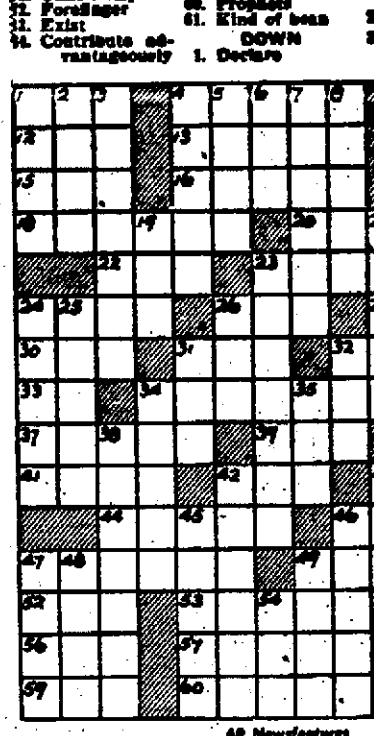

Dr. Sverdrup said the April 1 wave might have been caused by a two-foot movement upward or downward of several square miles of the ocean floor off the Aleutian Islands. The maximum wave height reported for the April 1 phenomenon was 100 feet.

Eighmey Elected By 'Railroaders' As Region Prexy

The northeastern region of the National Model Railroad Association was organized at the Hotel
Stuyvesant, Kingston, Sunday, and Henry P. Eighmey, founder of the local model railroad club, was elected to the office of president.
Henry C. Page, president of the Kingston club, is the secretary-treasurer of the new group, while Allen Hazen of West Buxton, Me., is the vice-president.

A seven-man executive committee was selected to govern the affairs of the northeastern region:
Fred Riebel of West Hartford,
Conn., Henry P. Eighmey of St.
Albans, Vt., Donald B. Pierce of Brookfield, Mass., Allen Hazen of West Buxton, Me., Chester A. Dill of Utica, and Bill Bowen of New York City.

There were 84 delegates at the meeting representing clubs in the region which takes in New York state, east of Syracuse, all of New England, northern New Jersey, a portion of Canada, Prince Edward Islands and Nova Scotia.

Saturday night, there was "open house" at which the local railroaders demonstrated their quarter-inch scale model line.

Sunday morning at 9 o'clock
Edward E. Safford and William H.
Marnett registered the delegates for the business session that started an hour later, with Henry C. Page as the chairman. This was followed by a banquet, during which Henry P. Eighmey was toastmaster. Mayor William F.

Edelmuth, one of the speakers, praised the Kingston club for its accomplishments over a nine-year span.

Adrian Buysse of Rochester, past-president of the National Model Railroad Association and editor of the "N.M.R.A. Bulletin," as the main speaker stressed the need of regional organization of model railroaders, pointing out that with a national organization that had actually grown 500 per cent in the last year and was still expanding, it was necessary to organize regions for the purpose of closer cooperation between model railroad-ers.

Mr. Buysse stated that the Pacific coast region, the mid-west region, the British region (all model railroaders in Great Britain) were already functioning, and that the organization of the northeastern region was another step forward in the development of the hobby.

Hugh Jack of Rochester, treasurer of the national association, spoke briefly concerning the finances of the group, and Edward Campbell of Pittsburgh, chairman of the regional organizations for the national association, told of the possibilities of regional organization.

At the afternoon session the election of an executive committee was held and the invitation of the Hartford, Conn. club to hold the next meeting of the northeastern region in Hartford in October was accepted.

At 4 o'clock, the men were guests of the New York Central system at an inspection tour of the north yard engine terminal, arranged through the cooperation of Trainmaster Stephen J. Keating of the river division and conducted by Myron Van Buren, enginehouse foreman.

A second "open house" session was held at the local model club at 541 Broadway on Sunday, following the "fan trip" to the north yard.

Robert Gurley of Utica was appointed to the position of editor of the publication that will become a part of the business of the Northeastern Region.

Local model railroaders who are members of the National Model Railroad Association include: Henry C. Page, Henry P. Eighmey, Charles H. Dehl, William H. Mar-
nett, Stephen J. Keating, Walter Phillips, Julius Lipton, Fred Grub-ber, Frank Falstyn, Jr., George Koerner, Edward E. Safford and Betty Eighmey.

ufactures children's wear.

Jacob J. Schneider, Kingston manager of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union, said the strike was a spontaneous
one on the part of the workers.
They are seeking, he said, union recognition, higher wages and better working conditions. Mr.
Schneider said the workers quit when the work at the plant was changed from week work to piece work, which he claimed, meant lower wages.

On the other hand, Mrs. Sadie Kozlowski, manager of the plant, denied that the change in the working schedule would reflect lower wages. She said that 27 of the 55 persons employed had quit work.

The ones who quit, she said, were averaging from $33 to a high of $45 a week. Mrs. Kozlowski said that the top workers were being paid at the rate of $9 a day for a five-day week.

The plant at present is a non-union one, and was in the process of being unionized at the time of the strike, according to Mr.
Schneider.

Syracuse Confers Degrees; Loughran Honored at Rites

Appeals Court Chief Judge Receives Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws

Syracuse, April 28 (Special)—Among eight persons who received honorary degrees at Syracuse University's 83rd commencement exercises was John T. Loughran of Kingston, chief judge of the New York State Court of Appeals.

The degree of doctor of laws was conferred on Judge Loughran by Chancellor William P. Tolley during the exercises, at which approximately 660 students—in the last spring commencement under the university's accelerated wartime program—received academic degrees.

Judge Loughran, born in Kingston in 1889, was graduated from Fordham University in 1911 and was admitted to the New York bar in the same year. He began law practice in Kingston and later moved to New York. In 1925 he received his LL.D. degree from Fordham. Five years later he became a Supreme Court justice and in 1934 moved up to the Court of Appeals. He was elected to his present post of chief judge last year.

Other recipients of honorary degrees were U. S. Sen. Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota, who delivered the commencement address, doctor of laws; Jacob C. Tressler of New York, author of widely read English textbooks, doctor of pedagogy; Frank Abrams of New York, chairman of the board of directors of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey), doctor of laws; retiring Dean Harold L. Butler of College of Fine Arts, Syracuse University, who became dean emeritus July 1, doctor of fine arts.

Also Charles E. Wilson of Schenectady, president of General Electric Company, doctor of laws; and Miss Sarah Blanding of Ithaca, dean of Cornell University's College of Home Economics and first woman president-elect of Vassar College, doctor of laws. Honorary degree of doctor of laws was to have been conferred on Charles A. Kirk, New York, executive vice president International Business Machines Corporation, but Chancellor Tolley received word Saturday illness would prevent his attendance. Degree will be conferred at third term commencement exercises August 26.

Wallace Says O.P.A. Defeat Would Be Bad

Boston, April 29 (AP)—Predicting inflation if the O.P.A. were discontinued, Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace asserted that this would result in the "wiping out of the middle class in the crash following inflation."

He told the Massachusetts Independent Voters' Association last night that such a loss of the middle class would leave the United States "open to dictatorship."

Contending that one of the principles of present-day progressivism was support of the O.P.A., Wallace declared that "if O.P.A. were discontinued prices might go much higher than they did after World War one."

Tribute Proposed For Doctor Ross

Terwilliger Suggests Funds Be Raised in Esopus

A memorial in tribute to the late Dr. George W. Ross, prominent and highly respected Port Jervis physician, has been proposed by Earle O. Terwilliger of Port Jervis.

Mr. Terwilliger's proposal, setting forth plans for a memorial erected by popular subscription among the residents of the Town of Esopus, has been submitted to the town board of the Town of Esopus for official action.

Mr. Terwilliger's letter follows: April 22, 1946

To the Residents

Town of Esopus, N. Y.

Dear Friends:

One of our most loved and prominent men, Dr. George W. Ross, has, as you all know, just recently passed away. As a resident and practicing physician of our town of Esopus for more than 40 years, he gave to us, his friends and neighbors, a devotion to his practice which I feel can never be replaced.

What would be more fitting to one so loved and admired by all, as a memorial to his lasting memory? If this suggestion would meet with the approval of Mrs. G. W. Ross, a suitable memorial could be erected on the Ross Park grounds in Port Jervis with funds obtained by popular subscription from the residents of the Town of Esopus.

I am delivering to the town board of the Town of Esopus a copy of this letter with a hope that they, as the governing body of the town, will arrange to carry out the above proposal.

Respectfully yours,

EARLE O. TERWILLIGER

YM.C.A. Drive First Report Meeting Tonight

All Captains and Workers Expected to Hand in Record Initial Amounts at 'Y' Tonight

The first report meeting of workers engaged in the ward canvass for funds in the current financial campaign for the Kingston Y.M.C.A. will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the "Y" at which time all captains and workers will be present to make reports.

Dwight McEntee, chairman, reports that this will no doubt be the best initial report meeting of any recent campaign. Reports coming into headquarters over the week-end show that all ward workers are busy and are meeting with encouraging success. The Initial Gifts Committee will also report this evening. Surprising results are promised by some of the wards and all are working for the prizes that are promised for the best results obtained. Ice cream and cookies will be served at the meeting and every worker is urged to attend.

Chairman McEntee had an enjoyable experience Saturday afternoon when he called on a business firm which recently has taken over one of our local industrial plants which had not been in operation for several years. The new owners have spent a lot of money getting the plant in operation but without hesitation they cheerfully handed Mr. McEntee a most generous check for the work of the local Y.M.C.A.

Two factors have helped produce funds for the "Y" in this campaign. The first is that nearly 500 returned service men have been given free three-months' membership in the local "Y" and they gather there daily in large numbers where they can talk over their experiences, play games, exercise and relax amid pleasant surroundings. The other is the intention to re-open the Boys' Department, equip their rooms and secure an experienced boys' work secretary to handle this important work. Kingston people are showing that they approve of both these projects by their giving to the present campaign.

Lowe Boy Bitten By Police Dog on Ann Street Sunday

John Lowe, 14, of 196 First avenue, was severely bitten on the shoulder Sunday by a police dog said to be owned by Mrs. Lillian Brodhead of 14 Ann street.

According to a report made to the Kingston police, young Lowe was attacked by the dog as he walked through Ann street.

A man came to the rescue of the boy, driving the dog away, according to the police, but before the animal had inflicted the wound. The boy was treated at the Kingston Hospital.

Sunday evening a report was phoned to the police that the dog

Food Policy Rates As Most Controversial

Tokyo, April 29 (AP)—The Allied food policy in Japan is the most important of five controversial subjects which will come before the Allied Four Power Council for Japan at its third meeting tomorrow.

The meeting will be the first official one under the chairmanship of George Acheson, Jr., U. S. State Department career diplomat who is General MacArthur's political adviser.

Acheson presided over an informal meeting last week shortly after his appointment, but that, Council attaches said, was merely a "friendly get-together" to discuss the Japanese election.

Thompson Says Labor Must Work To Defeat Dewey

State Communist Head Says Party Will Aid Coalition; Aid Is Alternative

New York, April 29 (AP)—Robert Thompson, state Communist party chairman, announcing the party stand on the 1946 New York elections, says "the labor movement certainly must give high priority toward securing the defeat" of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey this fall.

"But if the slogan 'defeat Dewey at all costs' were adopted as a policy, it would be a good way of ensuring his election," Thompson said in an interview printed in the Sunday Worker.

He said the Communist party would "lend every support to coalition candidates fighting in the interests of the people," but would stand ready "if the situation demands it" to place "in the field and campaign for a Communist state ticket."

The party will put forward its own candidates in certain congressional and legislative districts, he said.

"Dewey can be defeated only if the people are given a real alternative to his program and not a so-called 'lesser evil' ersatz alternative," Thompson said, adding:

"The progressive forces in the labor movement should combat both those who want to make the labor movement a tail to the Dewey-Republican kite and those who want to make it a tail to the Truman-Democratic kite."

He said "groups which make for independent political action" should be strengthened, and listed "such organizations as the C.I.O. and Citizens' Political Action Committees, the Independent Citizens' Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, the American Labor Party and similar groups."

had attacked and bitten a young child. Patrolmen and John Miller, city dog warden, captured the animal and took it to the dog pound.

Factory Owner, 36, Is Charged With Swindling $500,000

Hogan Says Hydraulic Manufacturer Took Money on Basis of War Profits

New York, April 29 (AP)—William B. Benjamin, 36-year-old factory owner, was under arrest today charged with forgery and grand larceny and District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said he admitted defrauding credit firms of more than $500,000—most of which he lost at the races.

Hogan said Benjamin made $200,000 legitimate profit during the war years, and used the reputation thus established to swindle his creditors.

Benjamin admitted losing $38,000 on a single race, Hogan said, quoting the businessman as saying his smallest bet on one race was $1,500. His worst day at the track, Hogan said, showed a loss of $46,000.

The attorney quoted Benjamin as saying he also lost $5,000 in one gin rummy session and $25,000 on three fights one night at Madison Square Garden.

He spent between $300,000 and $400,000 in two months, Hogan said.

The well-dressed Benjamin, wearing a blue tie upon which hand-painted red horses galloped symbolically, was held in $50,000 bail. Hearing was set for May 6.

Hogan said the manufacturer of hydraulic automobile jacks and screw machine parts obtained the $500,000 by borrowing money from discount and credit companies on the strength of orders and accounts payable which were fraudulent. Hogan said creditors asked an investigation after they became suspicious and were told by Benjamin that his books had been burned.

The district attorney said Benjamin lived in the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark and the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York. Benjamin said his wife lived in Philadelphia.
